A Look Back at 100 Years of Disney Creativity

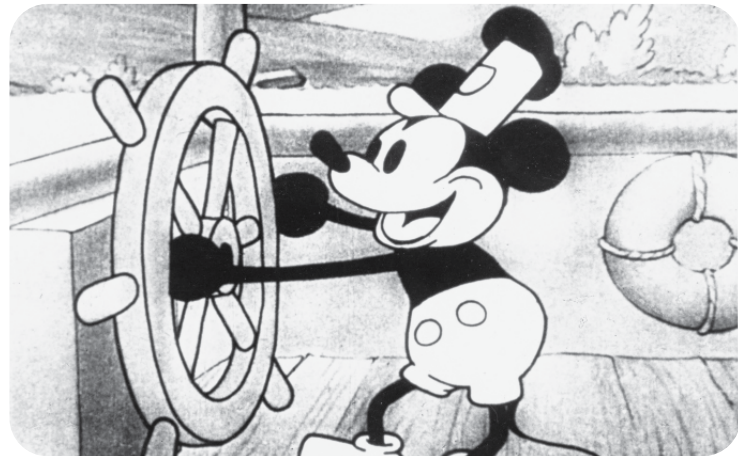

The Disney legacy we love and celebrate is built on a history of envisioning the possibilities of the future.

The word “legacy” may seem to refer to things created in the past, but in fact, everything we know and love about the Disney legacy was inspired by the future and the ability to envision and act upon its possibilities.

THE POSSIBILITIES OF SOUND AND COLOR

When sound first came to motion pictures, Walt Disney saw its possibilities and created the first fully-synchronized sound cartoon, Steamboat Willie (1928). And a star, Mickey Mouse, was born. As Technicolor became available, once again Walt Disney and his artists saw the possibilities and created Flowers and Trees (1932), bringing color to cartoons for the first time.

“We keep moving forward—opening up new doors and doing new things—because we’re curious. And curiosity keeps leading us down new paths.”
—Walt Disney

A GIANT STORYTELLING STEP FORWARD

Only a few years later, there came a great leap forward in Disney storytelling, a full-length animated story. When Walt and his team began work on Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs (1937), there were risks. There were challenges, and there were definitely nay-sayers. But when the film premiered at the Carthay Circle Theatre in Los Angeles, there wasn’t a dry eye left in the house. The animated storytelling we love was launched and is a key part of the Disney legacy today.

A WONDERLAND FOR EVERY FAMILY

When Walt Disney sat on a park bench watching his daughters ride a Merry-Go-Round, he dreamed of a future place where families could laugh, imagine and dream together, and the idea of Disneyland® Park was born. It became the spark that eventually led to Walt Disney World® Resort and Disney Parks worldwide.

MEMORABLE KEEPSAKES

Bring home a piece of the Disney creativity you love with unique merchandise created exclusively for the Disney100 Celebration. DREAMING OF THE GREAT “WHAT IF”

At the heart of the ability to envision future possibilities is the question, “what if...?” What if we embraced the (then-new) technology of television and created shows for families and children? Such classics as Mickey Mouse Club (1955) and The Wonderful World of Disney anthology series were born. What if there were a way to make figures speak and move to bring presidents and pirates to life by embracing and developing Audio-Animatronics® technology? The list of ‘what ifs’ goes on and on. And it will continue for as long as those who, like Walt Disney himself, can look at both the present and the future and envision ways to immerse us all in the creativity and imagination of Disney storytelling.

Join the Disney100 Celebration at the Disneyland® Resort

Experience the events and add to your own memories.²

The largest celebration in The Walt Disney Company's history, Disney100, kicked off in January at the Disneyland® Resort and its magic is shining like—well—platinum. If you're planning to make your dreams come true with a visit during this once-in-a-lifetime event, here's a look at the exciting offerings taking place throughout the Resort all year long.

DÉCOR THAT BRINGS YOU INTO THE STORY

Beautiful décor in platinum and purple immerses you in a celebratory atmosphere throughout the Disneyland® Resort. From lighting to floral plantings, everything says, "Let's celebrate!"

Banners and bunting on the lamp posts on Main Street, U.S.A., feature the three good fairies from Sleeping Beauty and the Wishing Star. "The Wishing Star is an important part of the Company's visual heritage, making it the perfect symbol for Disney100," explains Kimberly Irvine, Executive Creative Director, Walt Disney Imagineering.

Sleeping Beauty Castle is also decked out with banners, bunting, a large shield with three-dimensional sculptures of the three good fairies and a three-dimensional Wishing Star. Two majestic fountains sparkle in the moat on either side of the drawbridge.

NEW SURPRISES TO EXPLORE

Storytelling is brilliantly celebrated in everything from events to specialty treats, beverages and merchandise. World of Color-ONE at Disney California Adventure® Park brings some of the most inspiring Disney Characters to life in new ways. Wondrous Journeys, a new nighttime spectacular at Disneyland® Park, gives a nod to Walt Disney Animation Studios films with state-of-the-art projection effects on Main Street, U.S.A., Sleeping Beauty Castle, the façade of "it's a small world" and Rivers of America. Dazzling fireworks take the show to new heights on select nights. And the beloved Magic Happens parade makes its long-awaited return on February 24th.

ENJOY A REIMAGINED MICKEY'S TOONTOWN

On March 8th, the popular themed land will welcome Guests! Prior to that though, Mickey & Minnie's Runaway Railway will debut at the El CapiTOON Theater as part of the Disney100 Celebration. Guests can join Mickey Mouse, Minnie Mouse and their Pals on a mirthful adventure. The all-ages adventure brings to life the cartoon world featuring Mickey Mouse and his friends, plus action, adventure, humor and a big finish. "It's so exciting to tell a story about Mickey, and the attraction represents what Disney does best: great storytelling, catchy music and amazing visuals," says Jonathan Friday, Senior Creative Director, Walt Disney Imagineering. "It's wonderful to have the technology to create an attraction that is as much fun as Mickey himself is."

A Huggable Pal Debuts

In 1930, the first Mickey Mouse plush doll is available to take home.

The first Mickey Mouse plush doll was created by seamstress Charlotte Clark in 1930. Walt and Roy O. Disney were so pleased with the product quality that they set up a “Doll House,” near the studio where a team assembled three to four-hundred dolls a week. The handmade Mickey Mouse plush were such a hit, that a Minnie Mouse edition soon followed in 1931.

“During the Disney100 Celebration we will be showcasing the finale of the EPCOT® transformation and the possibilities of a limitless future.”

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Disney100 comes to a glorious finale at Walt Disney World® Resort with a celebration at EPCOT® from September through December. “It’s the culmination of the EPCOT® transformation with its multitude of new experiences,” Queris says. A platinum Mickey Mouse sculpture welcomes you to celebrate at EPCOT®, and from the moment you step into the Park, you’ll feel the sense of transformation and celebration. Journey of Water, Inspired by Moana, an awe-inspiring new attraction, opens in late 2023. Mickey and Minnie Mouse, dressed in celebratory platinum outfits, will be on hand for Character Experiences from September through December. At the beautiful new World Celebration Garden, also slated to open in late 2023, an evocative statue of Walt the Dreamer offers another perfect opportunity for photographs.

And a brand-new nighttime spectacular will light the sky over the World Showcase Lagoon scheduled to launch during the Disney100 Celebration in late 2023. “It has been amazing to create these new fun ways to immerse our Guests in our storytelling legacy,” Queris says. “We know how much our Guests love the magic it has inspired in them over the years. But the Disney100 Celebration is not only about looking back, but gazing forward to the future and the new immersive Disney storytelling experiences that will inspire us and future generations.”

Get in the groove at the Garden Rocks concerts!

There’s nothing like enjoying a live performance by some of your favorite bands in a beautiful setting. The Garden Rocks Concert Series during the EPCOT® International Flower & Garden Festival adds the sound of music to your day of pleasure.

This year, beginning in March, celebrity bands perform three 30-minute sets every Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday night at 5:30, 6:45 and 8:00 PM at the American Gardens Theater.

MUSIC FOR EVERYONE

Because each act plays for at least two days, Brad Ross, Talent Booking Director Disney Live Entertainment, suggests visiting FreshEPCOT.com/GardenRocks for a list of bands and their performance dates. “We invite many classic rock groups to perform every year,” he says. “But we also diversify our offerings. We’ve added Christian rock groups, and we are incorporating more Latin groups. We want to offer something for everyone.”

“The Garden Rocks Concert Series is a wonderful chance to share the energy of a live performance,” Ross concludes. “The groups love playing here and our Guests love hearing them! Happy performers. Happy Guests! What more could you ask?”

Must-See Destinations from Adventures by Disney®

From Antarctica to Italy, learn how Adventures by Disney® creates its immersive itineraries.

Every adventure is a journey of discovery. So is the act of creating them. When the Adventures by Disney® team begins to build a new adventure, where do they imagine going? What do they discover? And how do they turn those discoveries into the adventures you have always dreamed of taking?

The first step is researching potential destinations. And with a wide world to choose from, there are so many options! “We take a look at top travel trends,” says Lisa Gatlin, Senior Manager of Trip Development for Adventures by Disney®. “We ask our Guests what destinations sound exciting to them. We talk to fellow Disney Cast Members about trips they have taken or want to take. We connect with our Disney partners around the world for suggestions. It could be a location that has inspired a film or a Park attraction. Wherever it is, we want it to be unique.”

EVERY ADVENTURE TELLS A STORY

The next criteria is pure Disney: there has to be a story. “We always ask ourselves, ‘what are the stories of the history and culture at a particular destination?’” Gatlin says. “How would we immerse our Guests in those stories? Are they iconic locations? Are there hidden gems for our Guests to discover? What are the unique, immersive activities available there?”

PRO TRAVEL TIP

Purchase backpacks and other travel items prior to your vacation. Check out the wide range of products perfect for any voyage. Cardmembers can save 10% on select purchases at shopDisney.com when using your Disney Visa Debit Card.¹

WORKING WITH ADVENTURE GUIDES

The team researches each destination deeply, then goes about creating special experiences for Guests. “Adventure Guides, in each destination, work to give Guests one-of-a-kind experiences that can bring a place to life in unforgettable ways,” Gatlin says. And sometimes, that leads to unexpected and wonderful surprises.

NEW ADVENTURES IN 2023

For instance, when the Adventures by Disney® team was building the new Land Adventure to the British Isles, which launches in spring 2023, they went to Northern Ireland, where they visited a farmhouse in a traditional village. “We learned to bake bread, heard stories about family and traditional village life and interacted with the local family and their children. It helped us make the decision that this was a great location to bring our Guests,” Gatlin says. “We also visited the iconic Giants Causeway with a storyteller who brought the area to life with stories about the history and the folklore of the Causeway. You could almost picture giants running across it. That’s where the experience becomes really magical.”

ACTIVITIES FOR EVERY INTEREST AND AGE

As the team builds each adventure, they explore activities which will engage every age group, including activities just for Junior Adventurers. “We put on our 8-year-old hats and our grandparent hats and all the hats in between to make sure we are offering activities and experiences that not only connect families with the people and culture of the region, but also fit each Guest’s interests.”

During the new Sicily Land Adventure, families can choose guided tours of ancient Greek and Roman wonders, visit theaters and cathedrals, stroll through a Sicilian village to browse artisan shops and share a traditional village-style lunch, enjoy a private puppet show and snorkel through the sparkling Ionian Sea.

SO MANY PLACES TO EXPLORE

With over 50 adventures on seven continents, Adventures by Disney® offers a multitude of opportunities and ways to journey to the places you’ve imagined and to experience them in new ways. Choose from Expedition Cruises, Land Adventures, River Cruises and even Private Adventures for 12 Guests or fewer.
