MAKE MEMORIES DURING THE DISNEYLAND® RESORT 70TH CELEBRATION STARTING MAY 16TH, 2025⁷

Through summer 2026, the Disneyland® Resort honors its history with a celebration of the fun and magic it has brought to generations who have loved and cherished their times at “The Happiest Place on Earth.” We spoke with David Caranci, Manager Creative Development, and Jennifer Magill, Executive Producer, about the plans in place for this once-in-a-lifetime celebration.

CHARACTERS, FASHIONS AND PLAYFUL DÉCOR

That sense of being invited into a colorful festive world of happiness will begin from the moment you enter the Disneyland® Resort. Customized 70th Celebration décor will be seen throughout the entire Resort. To give a glimpse at what is to come, over at Disney California Adventure® Park, there will be celebratory bunting along Buena Vista Street and stunning projections on Carthay Theater. Over at Disneyland® Park, an elegant medallion on Sleeping Beauty Castle and beautiful banners make the iconic Castle the perfect place for a photo opportunity.

And, of course, Mickey Mouse, Minnie

Mouse and their friends will be decked out in new celebratory fashions and ready to greet Guests with happy smiles at Disneyland® Park. “Our objective is to bring surprise and delight in every corner of the Parks,” says Caranci. “I love the fact that we are creating magic for our Guests and putting them in a place of hope and happiness.”

Get excited for commemorative merchandise that may feature Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse in their new festive attire, as well as a selection of merchandise featuring the 70th Celebration logo, so you can bring home a unique memento of this special occasion.

PARADES, CAVALCADES AND FIREWORKS

For this 70th Celebration, the eagerly awaited Paint the Night Parade will return, immersing Guests in a fantastical display sparkling with beloved music, dancers, some favorite Characters and over a million vibrant lights. A captivating projection show will illuminate the façade of “it’s a small world,” at night and during the day, you’ll be able to dance and clap along to the new Mickey and Friends Celebrate Happy! Cavalcade.

The Wondrous Journeys show features state-of-the-art projection effects that transform Main Street, U.S.A., Sleeping Beauty Castle and the Rivers of America. And, on select nights, the show will be enhanced with fireworks. “Every Disney animated film is represented,” Magill says. “It’s a joyful journey through the heart of Disney storytelling.”

HEROES AND HAPPINESS AT DISNEY CALIFORNIA ADVENTURE® PARK

Friendships are always an important part of Disney and Pixar storytelling and an important part of what makes us happy! They’re celebrated in the lively Better Together: A Pixar Pals Celebration returning for the 70th Celebration at Disney California Adventure® Park. The colorful parade features whimsical, dynamic floats, toe-tapping music and nearly 30 favorite Characters from the Pixar Animation Studios.

The adorable, spirited Characters from Inside Out 2 are the guides in an all-new nighttime spectacular World of Color Happiness! presented by PANDORA® jewelry as fountains, lights and music combine to create a kaleidoscope of happiness.

Magill sums up what the 70th Celebration means to her and to Guests. “There’s a plaque at the entrance to Disneyland® Park that says, ‘Here you leave today and enter the World of Yesterday, Tomorrow and Fantasy.’ It’s a quote from Walt Disney, the man who started it all, and it’s still so important. It’s a message that reminds us to just go and have fun. That’s what ‘Celebrate Happy’ means and why it resonates with me!”

NOURISH YOUR SENSE OF WONDER

WITH ADVENTURES BY DISNEY® AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC EXPEDITIONS

It's said that a journey of a thousand miles begins with one step. As you begin to plan your long-dreamt-of journey, your first step is deciding where you want to go. The second step is deciding what kind of experiences you want to have.

We asked Kyle Raser and Lesley Combs, Senior Managers Trip Operations Land and Cruise, for insights into what distinguishes Adventures by Disney® and National Geographic Expeditions to help Guests choose which journeys are perfect for them and their families. Of course, once you've read this, you may want to experience both!

"With Adventures by Disney®, we focus on fun, family-friendly immersive ways to bring each location's story to life," Combs explains. "National Geographic Expeditions, skew a bit more adult and a bit more educational," says Raser. "You're accompanied by National Geographic experts, photographers, naturalists and writers who provide a deeper understanding of a location's history, culture and natural wonders. For instance, if you go to Venice with Adventures by Disney®, you might visit an artisan who creates Venetian masks and then have a chance to make one yourself. With National Geographic Expeditions, you might go to the same mask-making venue but learn about the history, cultural significance and art behind the craft.

Whichever type of adventure you choose, your third and final step in your personal "journey of 1,000 miles" is to let us handle the details so that you and your family can focus on nourishing your sense of adventure, curiosity and wonder!

Curious about what's coming next? Visit AdventuresbyDisney.com and NatGeoExpeditions.com for 2026 destination announcements. Then, pack your compass and your spirit of adventure!

CREATING MUSIC

FOR THE FAIREST OF THEM ALL

A chat with composer, Jeff Morrow, about the challenges and joys of creating music for the live-action Disney's Snow White in theaters March 21st.

Q WHAT ARE YOUR GOALS WHEN COMPOSING A FILM SCORE?

A My ultimate goal is to create a musical score that supports the story and also brings the viewers on the emotional journey with the characters. For instance, Snow White's theme starts very simply and innocently, but ends much more powerfully as she finds her own path. The music and the film make magic together.

Q DID YOU INCORPORATE THE ORIGINAL SONGS INTO THE SCORE?

A Absolutely! These songs have been sung and loved by so many people for so many generations, they're elevated to a level of national and international consciousness.

Q HOW DID YOU UPDATE THE MUSIC AND YET STAY TRUE TO ITS ORIGINS?

A I used many of the classic elements from the original film score, but updated them with more modernized harmonies and rhythms for today's audiences. For instance, I researched how they produced the original music for Grumpy's pipe organ. Sound master, Jimmy McDonald had people blowing into empty whiskey jugs and ocarinas, a small wind instrument. I asked the Studio if they still had them, and they sent me photos. Director Marc Webb and I went into the studio and got to toot on those very same whiskey jugs! That same sound is echoed in the new music.

Q WHAT IS ONE OF YOUR BEST PERSONAL MEMORIES FROM COMPOSING THE SCORE?

A I composed Snow White's theme while on a camping trip with my family by singing it into my phone. Seven or eight months later, I was sitting in a recording studio in London, hearing an orchestra of 100 of the best musicians in the world playing that same music. It was a career highlight. One other little, fun moment for me was getting to be Dopey's whistling voice. He doesn't speak, but he learns to whistle. I went into the studio and was filmed whistling so the CGA (Computer Graphic Animation) animators could capture my facial expressions for Dopey. I'll be telling my grandchildren about that scene!

Q ARE THERE STAND-OUT MUSICAL MOMENTS AUDIENCES SHOULD LISTEN FOR?

A There are quite a few. But one "pinch me" moment is when Snow White emerges from the forest, meets all the friendly animals and sees the miners' cottage. It's four to five minutes with no dialogue. The story is told only through the music. I loved composing for that scene. It tells the story of Snow White coming from a place that's dark and frightening to one that is peaceful and almost magical. Another particular moment I loved composing is when Snow White eats the poison apple. The music turns her original hopeful theme into something tragic. It was quite a challenge to write.

Q WHY IS YOUR WORK ON DISNEY'S SNOW WHITE IMPORTANT TO YOU?

A Disney has always carried the torch of great film music. It's so much a part of the Disney legacy and it's an honor to be a part of that.

EXPLORE SECRETS OF THE PENGUINS

ON DISNEY+ IN APRIL 2025

Brave 100-mile-an-hour gales and icy temperatures in Antarctica and savor the tropical warmth of the Galapagos Islands with award-winning National Geographic wildlife filmmaker, Bertie Gregory. He and his film crew uncover Secrets of the Penguins, a new nature documentary debuting on Disney+ this April 21st. Gregory has filmed wildlife worldwide and is fascinated by penguins, and viewers will be too, after watching this remarkable documentary that took over two years to film.

CLUMSY, COMICAL AND CLEVER

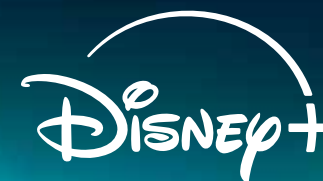

“On land, penguins seem so clumsy and comical, but that same animal can jump into the sea and swim underwater, holding its breath for 15 to 20 minutes. They have learned to adapt, survive and raise their young in unimaginably challenging environments,” says Gregory. He admires the penguins’ incredible instincts. “If they are good at anything, it’s figuring out how to survive,” he says.

No one can predict what they’ll observe when filming wildlife, and filmmakers don’t get directly involved with the animals. “Our job is to observe and document,” Gregory explains. “You start a project with hopes that you’ll capture something phenomenal, but it’s often about being at the right place at the right time. We were filming Emperor Penguin chicks going for their first swim when we noticed a flock of chicks jumping from a fifty-foot-high ice cliff. They made it, but our hearts were in our mouths!”

SNATCHING FOOD TO SURVIVE

While on the Galapagos Islands, filming the diminutive Galapagos Penguins, the rarest penguin in the world, Gregory and his team observed another remarkable penguin behavior. “Much of the year, the island currents bring a wealth of nutrient rich food,” he explains. “But sometimes the currents shift and food becomes scarce. We observed that the penguins watched the pelicans dive for fish. When the pelicans came up and settled on the waves, the penguins darted out to snatch any fish that fell from the pelicans’ bills.”

“We were handed some secrets and some moments that we couldn’t have begun to imagine, let alone plan for ahead of time,” Gregory concludes. “I hope that anyone who watches the film comes away with as much appreciation for these incredible creatures as much as we have.”
