HAPPY HOLIDAYS!

HOLIDAY NIGHTS OF ENCHANTMENT

AT WALT DISNEY WORLD® RESORT NOVEMBER 13 THROUGH JANUARY 6, 2027[1]

The holiday season at Walt Disney World® Resort is a festival of color, music, beautiful décor, festive treats, unique merchandise and so much more. And when the sun sets, a magical transformation takes place as night blooms with thousands of twinkling lights and enchanting nighttime spectaculars offer a feast for your eyes—and your heart.

A GLOWING GREETING
AT DISNEY'S HOLLYWOOD STUDIOS®

Imaginative storytelling lights the night during Sunset Seasons Greetings at Disney's Hollywood Studios® as The Hollywood Tower Hotel is transformed into scenes inspired by beloved Disney and Pixar films. "We wanted to create an enormous greeting card that would immerse Guests in a fantastic storytelling experience," says Tom Vazzana, Director Creative Development Entertainment, Walt Disney World® Resort.

To create the nightly tour de force, the team first had to choose which stories they wanted to depict. "There are so many great films, it took a long time to decide," Vazzana explains. "We had to work with the structure of the hotel as well, and that dictated some of our choices." Eventually the team chose four scenes and began creation of what they called "modules," or "chapters" as Vazzana likes to call them.

Now, as Guests watch, the hotel is transformed into a Muppet's-style Christmas, a glowing view of snowy Arendelle, a view of Dickensian London inspired by Mickey's Christmas Carol, and a module depicting the hotel rebuilt Toy Story style. "It's just a joy when you see it all come together," Vazzana says. "Think of it as a big happy holiday greeting from us to you."

A SPARKLING TRANSFORMATION
AT MAGIC KINGDOM® PARK

"The holidays at Magic Kingdom® Park are enchanting during the day and we wanted to extend that feeling into the night," says Vazzana. "Creating Frozen Holiday Surprise, which transforms Cinderella Castle into a glowing ice palace, was a joy for the entire team."

"As we began development, our first question was who would be our magic makers. We considered Flora, Fauna and Merryweather, as well as the Fairy Godmother. But eventually we chose Elsa. Since Disney is always all about storytelling, the team wanted to ground Frozen Holiday Surprise in a good story. We decided that Olaf, Kristoff, Anna and Elsa have taken a trip to visit Cinderella Castle. Olaf arrives first, and he and his Snowgies decorate the castle with a whimsical hodgepodge of objects. He's very proud of what he's done, but he needs some assistance. So, Elsa uses her icy magic to help things along."

Vazzana is especially fond of the song featured during the show, "When We're Together" from the featurette Olaf's Frozen Adventure. "It's a beautiful song that captures the true spirit of the season," Vazzana says. "After all, when we are together, we each bring our own special gifts to the holidays. Olaf's gift is how much he wants to do something special for his family. Anna and Kristoff bring the Yule Bell from Arendelle, so their gift is creating a sense of home. And Elsa's gift is her great love for her family," Vazzana explains. "I often see Guests standing closer together and holding hands while they watch the transformation. I think—and hope—we've helped them feel as if Magic Kingdom® Park is their holiday home for a moment."

THE NIGHT SHINES
AT WALT DISNEY WORLD® RESORT

This is just a small taste of the holiday enchantment that awaits. From the fan favorite Candlelight Processional at EPCOT® to the Tree of Life® Awakenings–Holiday Edition at Disney's Animal Kingdom® Theme Park, the nighttime dazzles throughout the Disney Parks this holiday season. To see all that awaits at The Most Magical, Merriest Place On Earth from November 13 to January 6, visit DisneyWorld.com/Holidays.

With all the beautiful lights surrounding you, you may want to sparkle too. Find plenty of ways to get your shine on and enjoy Cardmember savings of 10% off select merchandise purchases at select locations throughout Walt Disney World® Resort.[2, 3]

DECKING CARS LAND WITH LIGHTS AND LAUGHTER

AT THE DISNEYLAND® RESORT
NOVEMBER 18 THROUGH JANUARY 6, 2027[1]

When is a wreath more than a wreath or a Christmas tree more than just a tree? When they tell a story. Thanks to the creative inspiration of Disney Imagineers, artists and designers, holiday décor throughout the Disneyland® Resort not only conveys the beauty of the holidays, but also reflects the stories and Characters we love. That storytelling comes to life during the holidays at some favorite attractions and lands including Cars Land at Disney California Adventure® Park.

SEASON'S SPEEDINGS

Whimsy and humor go into high gear at Radiator Springs where the residents have had a wheely great time decorating the town with all things automotive. Garlands are fashioned from whitewall tires. Trees are made of stacked traffic cones, tires or oil cans. Snowflakes are fashioned from wrenches. Whatever you do, don't speed through! You won't want to miss a single chuckle-inducing detail.

GEARING UP FOR FUN AND A MERRY HAUL-IDAY

Cars Land opened in June 2012 and the first holiday overlay occurred in November of that same year. "The holiday overlays were included in the earliest concept development stages for Cars Land," says Tristan Tierney, Associate Project Manager with Park Enhancement.

Tierney gives examples. "For instance, how would Sally decorate the Cozy Cone Motel? She has to keep her establishment tidy and clean after all, while Mater, who runs a junkyard, is more cluttered and uses beat-up stuff." Luigi's area is decorated in white, red and green—the colors of the Italian flag. Flo uses air filters in her holiday décor while Ramone's ornaments have—what else—pin striping. When it came to decorating the city buildings, the group asked themselves how a real city decorated with wreaths and overhead garlands, and then had fun designing them Cars-style.

BUILDING THE "ENGINE"

The entire development process for the original overlay took about 18 months according to Tierney. Walt Disney Imagineering worked closely with Pixar to create rough concepts and brainstorm which materials should be used. "There were hundreds of detailed decisions that had to be made," Tierney says. After everyone felt confident with the designs and they were approved, assembly began.

And then comes the installation. "We have one night to get it all done," Tierney explains. "The teams start around 11:30 pm and have to be finished by 6:00 am. It's an all-or-nothing event. You either get an entire building ready or you don't install anything. No partial installations. No 'come back and finish it later.' It's an amazing example of communication, timing and teamwork." Or one might say, it's like the work of a truly excellent "pit crew."

REVVING UP LAUGHTER

The holidays are truly special in Cars Land. "Guests interact with the cleverness in the décor," Tierney believes. "The whole world of Radiator Springs is around you in a place that's very close to the film, but there's so much detail you don't see in the films, it's now as if you are part of the show." Tierney's favorite moment is when the sun goes down. "Standing in Cars Land at sunset may be the most magical moment of the day. With holiday songs and lights coming on one by one, you won't want to miss this 'Sh-Boom' moment."

Stop by Ramone's House of Body Art or Radiator Springs Curios to pick up gear for your entire crew when you use your Disney Visa Debit Card to receive 10% off select merchandise purchases.[2, 3]

A MAGICAL CONNECTION

DISNEY'S HEXED

IN THEATERS NOVEMBER 25, 2026

It takes a touch of magic, of imagination, and of the power in the words "what if" to create an animated film. Actions morph, new colorful worlds emerge, moments of humor and emotion evolve, and sometimes even the main Characters transform. Such was the case with Disney's Hexed, the all-new coming-of-age saga arriving in theaters on November 25, 2026.

A CASTING CHANGE

In the earliest days of development, the original concept focused on an awkward teenage boy and his mom who discovers that what makes him unique might just be magical powers. But like shape-shifting magic, the storytellers of Walt Disney Animation Studios transformed that early Character concept from an adolescent boy to a teenage girl.

Billie (voiced by Hailee Steinfeld) is an impulsive, unconventional teen who doesn't fit in at her high school. She's having a particularly bad day when the bracelet her mom, Alice (voiced by Rashida Jones), made her promise to always wear falls off her wrist. As soon as it does, Billie begins manifesting the magical powers Alice has been suppressing since Billie was a baby.

Billie's unleashed magical abilities hurtle her into a spectacle-filled journey out of suburbia and into a vast witch realm called Hexe. Forced to team up with her overly protective mother, the two uncover family mysteries that could change the world of witches forever.

THE HEART OF THE STORY

"A parent-child relationship was always the core of the story, and as it evolved, we found the strongest emotional story was between a mother and daughter," explains Jason Hand, Director.

"The story is about a young girl who discovers her true potential, but it's not like the typical hero's journey tale where she has to do it on her own," Fawn Veerasunthorn, Director adds. "In this film the secret ingredient is Billie's mom. I think that sets it apart because Billie needs to learn about her family's secrets in order to rescue her mother."

"As a daughter who is also fortunate enough to be a mother, I love this opportunity to tell a story that makes us curious about the side of our mothers we never thought to ask about: the joy, the mischief and the mistakes," Veerasunthorn says. "A big part of who we are maybe started long before we were born."

AN ACTOR'S PERSPECTIVE

Hailee Steinfeld brings her own perspective to the role of Billie. "As a new mother myself, Hexed resonated with me in a way that I could never have imagined," she admits.

"I'm very close to my mother, and there is that side to the role, but becoming a mother myself has deepened my emotional understanding of the parent/child relationship. For one thing, being an overly protective mom makes a lot more sense to me than ever before!" she adds with a smile. "I love the message in this film," Steinfeld says. "I think it's an important one. You guide your child, you protect, you support and you try to lead by example, but you also know you must allow your child to discover their personal magic within themselves. I'm so proud to be part of Hexed. And I'm excited for my baby girl to see it someday!"

A LOVE LETTER TO DISNEY ANIMATION

DRAWN TO LIFE BY CIRQUE DU SOLEIL & DISNEY

An amazing tribute to the art of Disney Animation, Drawn to Life by Cirque du Soleil and Disney at Disney Springs® is celebrating five dazzling years. The first-ever creative collaboration between Cirque du Soleil and Disney tells the story of Julie, a determined young girl who discovers a sequence of unfinished drawings left by her animator father. Guided by a magical pencil and a quirky troupe of imaginative muses, she embarks on an inspiring quest filled with her childhood Disney memories.

Her story is told through Cirque du Soleil's innovative design, awe-inspiring acrobatic performances, stunning choreography and eclectic costuming alongside Characters created by Disney Animation artists and an original score inspired by timeless Disney music. We spoke to original cast and crew who have been involved with the show since its inception about their remarkable journey and what the show means to them.

CREATIVE COLLABORATION

"What was fascinating to me was watching two very different storytelling styles—Disney's and Cirque du Soleil's—come together," says David Wallace, Technical Director, Drawn to Life, who oversees all technical aspects of the show. "The focus for everyone was always on creating a beautiful show. We enjoyed an incredible collaboration with the artists and storytellers of Walt Disney Animation! It has been a one-of-a-kind experience."

Development for the show began long before actual rehearsals. "When Cirque du Soleil has a new project, they start writing and thinking about it for a couple of years," explains Andreanne Nadeau, Artist and Artistic Coach, who was part of what she calls the creation cast. "The first team of artists participates very early in the creation. The project is written and imagined around a table and then the artists come into the early discussions because we have the responsibility to create what has been envisioned. The framework is drawn, and then we fill in the color."

MONTHS OF REHEARSALS

After the initial years of planning, work in the actual theatre at Disney Springs® began about five months before the show premiered. "Staging, costuming, makeup, lighting, sound, all the rigging for the artists' acts, in other words all the aspects are worked out," Wallace says. "While that's evolving, the artists are onstage rehearsing. It's like choreography the way it all comes together."

AN HOMAGE TO DISNEY ANIMATION ART

"The acrobatic artists aren't portraying or interpreting Disney Characters specifically," Nadeau explains. Instead Drawn to Life pays homage to Disney Animation, and to the artists who created it with gorgeous projections featuring Disney

Characters and storytelling moments including new and original animation artwork from the Walt Disney Archives. "It's a completely new imagined world," Nadeau says. "Every act is magical and there's something for everybody: the artistry of the acrobats, the Disney art, the music, the story. It's truly an emotional rollercoaster."

"There's a deep-rooted shared connection," Nadeau notes. "Both Cirque du Soleil and Disney create dreams, and between them they have fashioned something beautiful and powerful," Wallace adds.

"It has been a remarkable five-year experience," Nadeau agrees. "Being part of Drawn to Life from the very beginning and watching Guests fall in love with it for five years, really is something to celebrate!"

THE WONDERS OF NATURE MEET THE MAGIC OF DISNEY

AT THE NEW DISNEY'S LAKESHORE LODGE

Disney artists are often inspired by the awe and wonders of nature. They used that inspiration and their creativity in the design of Disney's Lakeshore Lodge, the new Disney Resorts Collection hotel. Set along the tranquil shores of Bay Lake at Walt Disney World® Resort, the beautiful new lakefront retreat opens its doors for Guests in July 2027.

NATURE GUIDES THE STORY

"Think of Disney's Lakeshore Lodge as an immersive, three-dimensional continuation of Disney artistry," says George Adams, Senior Creative Director, Walt Disney Imagineering. Spectacular floor-to-ceiling windows in the lobby will welcome natural sunlight and showcase sweeping views, allowing the local flora and fauna to flow seamlessly into the architecture, artwork, and ambiance. "We wanted to tell a story that celebrated nature and Disney art. We also wanted to appeal to all generations of Guests, so we looked at films that spanned the history of Disney animation. Guests will experience many recognizable Characters, for instance Meeko and Flit from Pocahontas, and the forest creatures from Bambi."

Eventually the team decided on Bambi, Pocahontas, Brother Bear and other Disney classics for the core inspiration. "The amazing variety of art styles in these films actually proved very freeing for our design work," Adams explains. "It allowed us to offer Guests a wide variety of settings, décor and ambiance." The team also decided to use new building techniques to bring to life the Lodge, its environs and furnishings. "You want the architecture and the theme to go hand in hand," Adams explains, "and the building approach gave us a unique flexibility to pull in things based on artistic quality rather than a specific film setting and narrative. The resort design puts nature and art at the heart of the story we're telling."

SETTING THE SCENE

The team relied extensively on original film art from the Walt Disney Archives including animators' "underdrawings" which have the feeling of loose, quick sketching.

"New and original art inspired by Disney films were needed to help complete the vision, so we partnered with the Walt Disney Animation Team," Adams explains. "It has been great to work with artists who bring the art to life in new, exciting ways. In fact, we often worked with artists who had been on the creative teams of the original films. It's as if some of the art from the films and the artists who worked on them have come full circle. For instance, drawing inspiration from the music and storytelling of Walt Disney Animation Studios' Pocahontas, a shimmering fiber-optic river will illuminate the floor of the lobby, while overhead, a blown glass Colors of the Wind sculpture with hundreds of suspended glass leaves will fill the space with movement, color and wonder."

CREATING A SENSE OF JOY

According to Adams, the site of the new resort at Bay Lake is the perfect setting. "It is a beautiful natural preserve," Adams explains. "When Guests enter the lobby with its 45-foot-tall floor-to-ceiling window overlooking an awe-inspiring view of Bay Lake, I believe they will feel the same sense of wonder we did as we created the resort. I believe deeply in designing things that are joyful, communicated subtly through color, space, shape, sound and texture," Adams concludes. "When you create something that is joyful, Guests sense and share it and carry it home with them in their memories."

Bookings for Disney's Lakeshore Lodge are now open. For more details about the resort's amenities, visit DisneyWorld.com. Your discovery of a place where nature's beauty and Disney art create a unique experience awaits "just around the riverbend."
